i object to rex minerals 12k slurry pipe mark parry said no leaks will happen because the pipe has sensors all along it, i refer to 2 quantas planes that nearly colided near adelaide one planes collison sensor was not working reported later so how can rex put pipe line under ground 'in winter when raining no one will see wet spots so close to sea ,itwill find its way into sea .quantas has the best sensors you can buy ,but things go wrong the out come can destroy our coastline
