Dear Sir / Madam

Terramin has submitted its proposal to the SA Government to start mining operations in an agricultural area just outside Woodside.

This mining activity is in complete conflict with the clean green character of the area. There are businesses that depend on maintaining this character, including and especially access to clean water. This water is totally at risk if mining activity occurs in the area. In spite of what they may claim, Terramin can not guarantee the safety of the local aquifers. The history of mining in other areas shows this.

This is a short term project that has the potential to do huge long-term damage to local business, jobs and the environment.

It's just not worth the risk. Please do not approve any mining by Terramin or anyone else in the beautiful Adelaide Hills.

Sincerely
Judith Gooden
