

Testimonials:

“Working with the RAA team recently to have RAA charging stations installed at the Barossa Central Shopping Centre was a pleasure. The whole RAA team worked together and with our centre seamlessly. Communication was always forthcoming, providing a timeline of works required and achieving in a timely fashion. If any issues arose, they were dealt with expediently and professionally.”

Wendy Smith, Shopping Centre Manager – Barossa Central Inside Out Retail Property

“In 2022 we had the privilege becoming a RAA preferred supplier for Signage Goods and Services, not long after we were invited to discuss branding options for the EV charging stations. After consulting with the RAA brand & EV teams we started prototyping visuals. With leadership from the EV team we designed, printed, installed units and wayfinding signage across multiple locations to help this vision come to life. The partnership is strong and forever evolving, our staff show pride and appreciation when working on RAA EV charging projects. This pride is a reflection on the commitment shown by RAA EV management and key personnel involved in this roll out. Johns Print Centre is proud to partner with this incredible team and we enjoy sharing their vision.”

Chad Rachwal, Managing Director, Johns' Print

“The electric vehicle charging stations being installed at this property provide tourists and visitors with an additional reason to stay in Waikerie. “Having these charging facilities available at our Motel gives us an opportunity to provide stellar service to our customers visiting the Riverland, driving business in the area as EV sales continue to grow.”

Andrew Tyson, Waikerie Hotel Motel Manager

The Tourism Industry Council South Australia (TiCSA) is the peak body for South Australia's tourism industry. TiCSA and RAA have long recognised the collective alignment of our pursuit for strengthening SA's visitor economy and have forged a strong partnership incorporating industry development and advocacy activities. Most recently, we have been pleased to have been actively engaged with RAA on their Charge EV network as we recognise the importance of electric vehicles in the transition to more sustainable modes of transport. In May 2023, RAA showcased the forthcoming RAA Charge network at the 2023 South Australian Tourism Conference, where tourism operators and accommodation providers had the opportunity to engage and learn more about how EV charging stations will improve the service offerings of their businesses.

Christina, Belperio, Policy & Partnerships Manager TiCSA

“I wanted the RAA to install EV charging points at my business. Woodside is in the heart of the Adelaide Hills wine region, so I think it's crucial to have an EV charging network to attract tourists here. We're building eight rooms of tourist accommodation, so we thought this was a great opportunity to provide EV charging to help service the area. People could pop in for a coffee or meal while they are recharging their EV or, if staying overnight they can wake up in the morning with their EV charged up.”

Tremaine Kerber, Aberdeen Lane & Woodside Providore owner
