Hi,
I'm writing to you to ask if you would reconsider this mine going ahead, Ardrossan is our home where we moved to to raise my child in a country clean environment, with a mine of this size and with the toxic ramifications would not be good so close to our town or the ocean and the critters there, I understand that the biggest thing in this day an age is the dollar and who has the most wins but what do you win if you have not left anything safe for the future generations. I know "people" are saying its safe but that's what they said about thalidomide.
Surely there is enough copper and gold being mined in other places around this state and those areas are already toxic waste lands, really who wants to live at Roxby or areas like that?
Ardrossan and the Yorke Peninsular as a whole is all about agriculture not mining, one small is enough that's causes enough dust as it is.
I put in mine our logo "Agriculturally Rich Naturally Beautiful"
Thankyou for taking the time to read this.
Please reconsider!!
