i am not happy with rex minerals mine so close to sea i believe run of from unexploded anfo will be carted all over mine site by trucks and will find it way into sea and bore water it may take along time but can not be reversed when they load anfo into drill holes on floor and walls the spill anfo every time if you do the numbers 10 ton every second day for 15 years even 1% over 15 years =27 tons of unexploded anfo leaching into sea and bore water
